Navy's Connecting Technology Event Kicks off Oct. 30 in San Diego

The Department of the Navy's Chief Information Office will hold the Fall 2001 Connecting Technology meeting and tradeshow at the Town & Country Resort & Convention Center Oct. 30 through Nov. 1., 2001 in San Diego.

Connecting Technology connects Navy contracting and Information Technology customers with current technology, contracting and technical information, as well as, Defense Department leaders who drive technology acquisition and implementation. Connecting Technology helps the Department of the Navy Chief Information Office meet its "Connecting People with state-of-the-art Technology" goals.

A broad array of topics are selected to keep pace with the speed of technology and policy along with speakers who are recognized authorities in their field. Connecting Technology also includes vendor exhibits from more than 100 different companies doing business with the Department of the Navy. The latest in technology and service offerings are exhibited by the various companies.

Connecting Technology is free to government employees, military personnel and contractors representing a government agency! For more information and registration, please see the Connecting Technology Website at: <http://www.it-umbrella.navy.mil/ct/index.html>
